The Bundesverband Naturkost Naturwaren e.V. (BNN) is a strong network of the organic industry with around 200 member companies. It is a home for both manufacturers and wholesalers, as well as independent and chain retailers.

BNN monitoring of fruit and vegetables in the natural food trade and BNN Monitoring of shelf-stable products are quality assurance systems with a focus on pesticide analyses. BNN monitoring supplements the legally regulated process control of the organic inspection bodies with a final product control and contributes to a continuous quality improvement and a high level of protection against consumer deception.
